26	Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23	passim

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

This purported class action concerns thousands of alleged individual violations of the Telephone Consumer Protection Act (“TCPA”). Specifically, Plaintiff claims that Defendant Enagic USA, Inc. (“Enagic”) and/or Enagic’s thousands of independent distributors made thousands of illegal telephone calls to thousands of different individuals throughout the United States. Like many TCPA cases, this case is particularly ill-suited for class certification because it is fraught with individualized issues arising from the unique circumstances of each allegedly illegal call. Indeed, the diverse and disparate circumstances under which each putative class members’ purported claims arose make it impossible for Plaintiff to satisfy the requirements of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23. Accordingly, Enagic respectfully requests that the Court deny Plaintiff’s Motion for Class Certification and Plaintiff’s informal request to conduct pre-certification discovery.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

Enagic is a direct selling company that markets various products and services to consumers through a network of thousands of independent distributors who reside and operate in most states. See Exhibit A at ¶ 3. All of Enagic's independent distributors are independent contractors, and as such, they have broad discretion to determine their own methods of sale and means of securing customers, so long as those methods and means are consistent with Enagic's formal Policies

1 and Procedures (the “Policies”). See Exhibit A at ¶¶ 4-5; see also Exhibit A-1 at 2 6.

4 Enagic does not use automatic telephone dialing systems (“ATDS”) or 5 prerecorded voice calls to solicit potential customers, independent distributors, or 6 any other individuals who have not consented to receiving communications from 7 Enagic. Exhibit A at ¶ 6. However, individuals who are interested in Enagic and 8 its products frequently provide their telephone numbers and other contact
9 information to Enagic and expressly request that Enagic contact them with 10 information about the company. Id. Enagic responds to these requests in various 11 ways, including by telephone. Id.

13
14 Enagic does not direct or encourage its independent distributors to use ATDS
15 or prerecorded voice calls to solicit potential customers or independent distributors.
16 Id. at ¶ 7. In fact, the Policies expressly prohibit independent distributors from 17 using Enagic’s name or copyrighted materials in connection with “automatic calling
18 devices or ‘boiler room’ operations either to solicit independent distributors or retail
19 customers.” Id.; see also Exhibit A-1 at 30.

20
22 To the extent Enagic’s independent distributors choose, in their discretion, to 23 contact potential customers by telephone, Enagic does not provide its independent
24 distributors with telephone numbers or other information regarding such potential
25 customers, nor does Enagic participate in any way in obtaining that information.
26
27
28

1 See Exhibit A at ¶ 8. Rather, independent distributors acquire telephone numbers
 2 and other information regarding potential customers independently and in a variety
 3 of different ways. Id.

 5 Enagic does not possess, maintain, or have access to records of any telephone
 6 calls that its independent distributors have made to potential customers or any other
 7 third parties. See Exhibit A at ¶ 9. If any such records exist, they would be 8 possessed and maintained separately by each independent distributor. Id.
 9 Likewise, Enagic does not possess, maintain, or have access to any records showing
 10 whether, or to what extent, independent distributors may have used ATDS or 11 prerecorded voice calls to call individuals who have expressly consented to receive 12 such calls. See Exhibit A at ¶ 10. As explained in the Policies, Enagic does not,
 13 and cannot, endeavor to regulate its independent distributors' use of ATDS or 14 prerecorded voice calls in ways that are legal. Id.; see also Exhibit A-1 at 30.

18 ARGUMENT AND AUTHORITIES

19 I. LEGAL STANDARDS GOVERNING CLASS CERTIFICATION

20 "The class action is an exception to the usual rule that litigation is conducted 21 by and on behalf of the individual named parties only." Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. v.
 22 Dukes, 564 U.S. 338, 348 (2011). Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23 governs the 23 class certification analysis and ensures that a departure from this general rule is 24 justified. Id. at 349. The class certification analysis principally involves a two-part
 25 inquiry: (1) the party seeking class certification must satisfy all four requirements
 26
 27
 28

1 of Rule 23(a)—that is, numerosity, commonality, typicality, and adequacy; and (2)
 2 the party seeking class certification must satisfy at least one of the requirements of
 3 Rule 23(b). Ellis v. Costco Wholesale Corp., 657 F.3d 970, 979-980 (9th Cir.
 4 2011). In addition, the party seeking class certification must define an ascertainable
 5 and identifiable class. See In re ConAgra Foods, Inc., 302 F.R.D. 537, 565 (C.D.
 6 Cal. 2014). “A class is sufficiently defined and ascertainable if it is
 7 ‘administratively feasible for the court to determine whether a particular individual
 8 is a member.’” Id. (quoting O’Connor v. Boeing N. Am., Inc., 184 F.R.D. 311, 319
 9 (C.D. Cal. 1998)).

13 The Supreme Court has instructed that “Rule 23 does not set forth a mere 14 pleading standard.” Dukes, 564 U.S. at 350. Rather, the party seeking class
 15 certification must affirmatively demonstrate his compliance with Rule 23, and the 16 Court must conduct a “rigorous analysis” of the Rule 23 prerequisites that 17 frequently entails looking beyond the facts alleged in the complaint to determine 18 how the merits of the case will actually be tried. Id. at 350-51.

21 II. THE PUTATIVE CLASS IS NEITHER ADEQUATELY DEFINED NOR CLEARLY 22 ASCERTAINABLE

23 A. The putative class is an improper “fail-safe” class.

24 A fail-safe class is one in which membership in the class is contingent on the 25 validity of the putative class members’ substantive claims. As the Ninth Circuit has 26 explained: “The fail-safe appellation is simply a way of labeling the obvious 27

1 problems that exist when the class itself is defined in a way that precludes
2 membership unless the liability of the defendant is established.” Kamar v.
3 RadioShack Corp., 375 F. App’x 734, 736 (9th Cir. 2010). “When a class is so
4 defined, once it is determined that a person who is a possible class member cannot
5 prevail against the defendant, that member drops out of the class.” Id. Fail-safe
6 classes cannot be certified because they are “palpably unfair to the defendant” and 7 “unmanageable.” Id. In addition, fail-safe classes cannot be certified because they
8 are unascertainable until after a judgment on the merits is entered. See, e.g., Brazil
9 v. Dell Inc., 585 F. Supp.2d 1158, 1167 (N.D. Cal. 2008); Velasquez v. HSBC
10 Finance Corp., No. 08-4592-SC, 2009 WL 112919, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Jan. 16, 2009).

12
13
14 Here, Plaintiff proposes the following class definition:

15
16 All persons within the United States who received any
17 telephone calls from Defendant or one of its Distributor-
18 Agents to said person’s cellular telephone made through 19 the use of any automatic telephone dialing system or an 20 artificial or prerecorded voice and such person had not previously consented to receiving such calls within the four years prior to the filing of the Complaint.

21 (Doc. 24 at 21-22; Doc. 32-1 at 2). This definition plainly tracks the elements of a
22 TCPA claim such that membership in the class will be contingent on the success of 23 a particular individual’s substantive claim. Indeed, “[t]he three elements of a
24 TCPA claim are: (1) the defendant called a cellular telephone number; (2) using an
25 automatic telephone dialing system; (3) without the recipient’s prior express
26
27
28

1 consent.” Meyer v. Portfolio Recovery Assocs., 707 F.3d 1036, 1043 (9th Cir.
 2 2012). All of these substantive elements are present in Plaintiff’s proposed class
 3 definition, and thus the identity of class members cannot be ascertained until after a
 4 judgment on the merits has been entered.

6 Recently, district courts within the Ninth Circuit have refused to certify
 7 TCPA classes that are indistinguishable from the class proposed by Plaintiff in this
 8 case because the class definitions proposed would create improper fail-safe classes.
 9 See Dixon v. Monterey Fin. Svcs., Inc., No. 15-cv-03298-MMC, 2016 WL
 10 3456680, at *4-*5 (N.D. Cal. June 24, 2016) (Dixon I); Dixon v. Monterey Fin.
 11 Svcs., Inc., No. 15-cv-03298-MMC, 2016 WL 4426908, at *1-*2 (N.D. Cal. Aug.
 12 22, 2016) (Dixon II); Olney v. Job.com, Inc., No. 12-cv-01724-LJO-SKO, 2013 WL
 13 5476813, at *11 (E.D. Cal. Sept. 30, 2013).¹ As the court explained in Dixon I, the 14 putative class was an improper fail-safe class because “defining a TCPA class to 15 include anyone who received a call without prior express consent means that only 16 those potential members who would prevail on this liability issue would be 17 members of the class.” Dixon I, 2016 WL 3456680, at *4. The same reasoning and 18 result should obtain here. Specifically, the Court should deny Plaintiff’s Motion for 19 Class Certification because the class definition offered by Plaintiff would create an 20 improper fail-safe class.
 21
 22
 23
 24
 25
 26

27 ¹ Notably, Plaintiff’s counsel also served as counsel for the plaintiffs in these cases.
 28

1 B. Plaintiff's proposed method for identifying class members is not
2 administratively feasible.

3 As already noted, Plaintiff bears the burden of proposing an administratively
4 feasible method for identifying class members. See In re ConAgra Foods, Inc., 302
5 F.R.D. at 565. Plaintiff has wholly failed to meet this burden, and the Court should 6 refuse to certify the putative class for this additional reason.

8 Plaintiff claims he will be able to identify class members by obtaining
9 Enagic's "outbound dial list" and having a technology consultant determine: (1)
10 which calls on the list were made using ATDS and/or a prerecorded voice; and (2)
11 which calls were made to cellular phones. (Doc. 32-1 at 9). This claim is 12 unavailing because it is predicated on erroneous and unsupported assumptions
13 regarding Enagic's records. Indeed, Enagic does not possess, maintain, or have 14 access to an "outbound dial list" or any other records that reflect telephone calls
15 made by its thousands of independent distributors. See Exhibit A at ¶ 9. Rather, to 16 the extent such records exist, they would be possessed and maintained separately by 17 each independent distributor. Id. Thus, even assuming that Plaintiff could 18 determine from phone records which calls were made using ATDS and/or a
19 prerecorded voice and which calls were made to cellular phones, Plaintiff would 20 have to obtain those records from thousands of independent distributors, many of 21 whom reside outside the subpoena power of this Court. Id. at ¶ 3. This would be 22 infeasible, if not completely impossible.
23
25
26
27
28

Moreover, even if Plaintiff could somehow acquire all of the relevant records from Enagic's independent distributors, those records would not indicate whether the recipients of the calls reflected in the records ever gave their consent to receive calls from Enagic or its independent distributors. Under the class definition proposed by Plaintiff, the Court must be able to determine whether individuals gave their express consent to be called in order to determine which individuals are included in the class. Plaintiff, however, has offered no method, much less an administratively feasible method, for making this essential determination.

In short, Plaintiff's proposed method for identifying class members is fanciful and based on erroneous and unsupported assumptions regarding Enagic's records. Because it will be administratively infeasible, if not completely impossible, for Plaintiff to identify members of the putative class, Plaintiff's Motion for Class Certification must be denied.

III. PLAINTIFF CANNOT SATISFY THE RULE 23(A) PREREQUISITES

The Court should also refuse to certify the putative class because Plaintiff cannot satisfy all four necessary prerequisites of Rule 23(a). Specifically, Plaintiff cannot show that there are questions of law or fact that are common to the class, nor can Plaintiff demonstrate that his claims are typical of the putative class members' claims. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(1) and (3).

1 A. Plaintiff cannot satisfy Rule 23(a)'s commonality requirement.

2 To satisfy Rule 23(a)'s commonality requirement, the class representative
3 must show that the claims of all the putative class members depend on at least one
4 common contention that is capable of classwide resolution. Dukes, 564 U.S. at 350.
5 A common contention is capable of classwide resolution if the “determination of its
6 truth or falsity will resolve an issue that is central to the validity of each one of the 7 claims in one stroke.” Id. “What matters to class certification is not the raising of 8 common ‘questions’—even in droves—but, rather the capacity of a classwide
9 proceeding to generate common answers apt to drive the resolution of the 10 litigation.” Id. When a class representative cannot show that the defendant acted
11 towards all putative class members in a uniform way, he generally cannot satisfy
12 the commonality requirement. See id. at 359 (“Because respondents provide no
13 convincing proof of a companywide discriminatory pay and promotion policy, we 14 have concluded that they have not established the existence of any common 15 question.”).

17 Plaintiff erroneously contends that his case presents several common
18 questions of law and fact that support class certification. First, Plaintiff argues that 19 the question of whether Enagic made “autodialed” or “prerecorded voice” calls to 20 consumers is a question that is common to all the putative class members. (Doc.
21 32-1 at 13). This argument fails, however, because Plaintiff’s own proposed class
22
23
24
25
26
27
28

1 definition includes individuals who received calls from Enagic or any one of
2 Enagic's thousands of independent distributors. Thus, even if Plaintiff were able
3 to prove that Enagic made "autodialed" or "prerecorded voice" calls to consumers,
4 this would not resolve any salient question for class members who claim to have
5 received an illegal call from one of Enagic's independent distributors.

8 Second, Plaintiff contends that the question of whether Enagic made calls to 9 any telephone number assigned to a cellular telephone service on Enagic's
10 outbound dial list is a common question for all class members. (Doc. 32-1 at 13).
11 As noted above, however, Enagic does not have an outbound dial list or any other 12 record of calls made by its independent distributors. See Exhibit A at ¶ 9. Rather,
13 if such records exist, they would be possessed and maintained separately by each
14 independent distributor. Id. Thus, again, even if Plaintiff could show that Enagic
15 made calls to consumers' cellular telephones, that would not resolve any salient 16 question for class members who purportedly received illegal calls from one of 17 Enagic's independent distributors.
18
19

20
21 Third, Plaintiff makes the specious claim that the question of whether Enagic
22 obtained "prior express consent" to make autodialed and/or prerecorded voice calls
23 is a question common to all class members. (Doc. 32-1 at 13). As many courts
24 have acknowledged, the question of consent is frequently individualized rather than 25 common to the class. See, e.g., Blair v. CBE Group, Inc., 309 F.R.D. 621, 628
26
27
28

1 (S.D. Cal. 2015); Connelly v. Hilton Grand Vacations Co., 294 F.R.D. 574, 577
2 (S.D. Cal. 2013). Indeed, courts have concluded that, “[a]lthough TCPA cases are 3 not ‘per se’ unsuitable for class resolution, class certification is warranted only 4 when the ‘unique facts’ of a particular case indicate that individual adjudication of 5 the pivotal element of prior express consent is unnecessary.” Blair, 309 F.R.D. at 6 628.

9 Here, Plaintiff has not presented, and cannot present, any unique facts
10 showing that the issue of consent is susceptible to classwide resolution. To be sure,
11 Plaintiff cannot show that Enagic and its independent distributors acquired 12 consumers’ telephone numbers from a single source or by a single method, nor can
13 Plaintiff show that Enagic and its thousands of independent distributors utilized a 14 call list of homogeneously unconsenting call recipients. In fact, just the opposite is 15 true. Enagic’s independent distributors have broad discretion to independently 16 determine their own methods of sale and means of securing customers, and to the 17 extent they make calls to potential customers or other third parties, they acquire 18 telephone numbers and other contact information independently and in a variety of 19 different ways. See Exhibit A at ¶ 8. The variety of factually different scenarios 20 under which putative class members’ telephone numbers are obtained leads to the 21 inevitable conclusion that the issue of consent is individualized in this case. See
22 Connelly, 294 F.R.D. at 577-79.
23
24
25
26
27
28

1 Finally, there is no merit to Plaintiff's claim that this case involves a uniform
2 practice by Enagic of making autodialed and/or prerecorded voice calls to
3 consumers' cellular phones. (Doc. 32-1 at 13). Quite the contrary, Enagic's
4 thousands of independent distributors have broad discretion to independently
5 determine their own methods of sale and means of securing customers, including
6 whether to solicit customers via telephone. See Exhibit A at ¶¶ 5 and 8. In this
7 way, this case resembles Dukes, wherein the Supreme Court held that Wal-Mart's 8 policy of giving local supervisors discretion over employment decisions was "just 9 the opposite of a uniform employment practice that would provide the commonality
10 needed for a class action." Dukes, 564 U.S. at 355.

11 In sum, Plaintiff's purported claims, and those of the putative class members,
12 arise from a wide variety of factually different circumstances. As such, the claims
13 of all the putative class members do not depend on any common contentions that 14 are capable of class wide resolution. Therefore, Plaintiff cannot satisfy Rule
15 23(a)'s commonality requirement, and the Court should refuse to certify the class
16 for this reason.

17 B. Plaintiff cannot satisfy Rule 23(a)'s typicality requirement.

18 Class certification is also inappropriate because Plaintiff has not shown, and 19 cannot show, that his claims are typical of the claims of the putative class. Rule
20 23(a)'s typicality requirement encompasses the question of the class
21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28

1 representative's standing, "for 'without individual standing to raise a legal claim, a
2 named representative does not have the requisite typicality to raise the same claim
3 on behalf of a class.'" Piazza v. Ebsco Indus., Inc., 273 F.3d 1341, 1346 (11th Cir.
4 2001) (quoting Prado-Steiman v. Bush, 221 F.3d 1266, 1279 (11th Cir. 2000)).

6 The "irreducible constitutional minimum" of standing consists of three 7 elements that the plaintiff bears the burden of proving: (1) an injury in fact; (2) that
8 is fairly traceable to the defendant's conduct; and (3) that is likely to be redressed
9 by a favorable judicial decision. Spokeo, Inc. v. Robins, 136 S. Ct. 1540, 1547
10 (2016). To satisfy the first element, a plaintiff must establish that he suffered an 11 invasion of a legally protected interest that is both concrete and particularized. Id.
12 at 1548. Although Congress "may elevate to the status of legally cognizable 13 injuries concrete, de facto injuries that were previously inadequate in law," that 14 "does not mean that a plaintiff automatically satisfies the injury-in-fact requirement
15 whenever a statute grants a person a statutory right and purports to authorize that 16 person to sue to vindicate that right." Id. at 1549. As such, a plaintiff cannot 17 demonstrate his standing to sue merely by alleging a procedural violation of a
18 statute, without demonstrating some concrete harm. Id. Moreover, "[a] plaintiff 19 who would have been no better off had the defendant refrained from the unlawful 20 acts of which the plaintiff is complaining does not have standing to sue under 21

1 Article III of the Constitution to challenge those acts in a suit in federal court.”
2 McNamara v. City of Chicago, 138 F.3d 1219, 1221 (7th Cir. 1998).

4 Here, Plaintiff’s Second Amended Complaint alleges two types of harm: (1)
5 that he and the putative class members incurred “certain charges or reduced
6 telephone time for which Plaintiff and Class members had previously paid by 7 having to retrieve or administer messages left by Defendant”; and (2) that Plaintiff
8 and the putative class members suffered invasions of privacy. (Doc. 24 at 23).

10 With respect to the first type of harm alleged, Plaintiff does not offer any evidence
11 whatsoever that he incurred certain charges or suffered reduced telephone time as a
12 result of any call he received from Enagic or its independent distributors, despite 13 his burden to do so. See Dukes, 564 U.S. at 350 (“Rule 23 does not set forth a mere 14 pleading standard”). Moreover, any charges or reduced phone time incurred by 15 Plaintiff or the putative class members because of their own decision to retrieve or 16 administer messages are directly traceable to their own actions, not the actions of 17 Enagic or its independent distributors. Finally, even if Plaintiff and the putative
18 class members could show that they incurred some “certain charges” or “reduced
19 telephone time” as a result of listening to messages on their phones, Plaintiff offers
20 no evidence of a concrete injury caused by the use of ATDS or a prerecorded voice
21 that is different from the injury that would have been caused by a manually dialed
22 call. See Romero v. Dep’t. Stores Nat’l Bank, ---F. Supp.3d---, 2016 WL 4184099, 23
24
25
26
27
28

1 at *5 (S.D. Cal. Aug. 5, 2016) (“Plaintiff does not offer any evidence demonstrating
2 that Defendants’ use of an ATDS to dial her number caused her greater [harm] than 3 she would have suffered had the calls she answered been dialed manually, which
4 would not have violated the TCPA”); Ewing v. SQM US, Inc., ---F. Supp.3d ---,
5 2016 WL 5846494, at *2-*3 (S.D. Cal. Sept. 29, 2016) (“Plaintiff does not, and
6 cannot, allege that Defendants’ use of an ATDS to dial his number caused him to 7 incur a charge that he would not have incurred had Defendants manually dialed his 8 number, which would not have violated the TCPA”). For all these reasons,
9 Plaintiff’s unsupported allegation of harm in the form of “certain charges” and
10 “reduced telephone time” are insufficient to establish Plaintiff’s standing to sue.
11

12 Likewise, Plaintiff’s claim that he and the putative class members suffered
13 invasions of privacy is not sufficient to establish Plaintiff’s standing to sue under 14 the TCPA. As the court held in Romero, an invasion of privacy may be what 15 Congress sought to deter by promulgating the TCPA, but it is not a sufficient
16 concrete injury, by itself, to satisfy the injury-in-fact element of the constitutional
17 standing analysis. Romero, 2016 WL 4184099, at *3.
18

19 Ultimately, Plaintiff’s failure to establish his own standing to sue in this case
20 precludes him from satisfying Rule 23(a)’s typicality requirement. For this
21 additional reason, the Court should deny Plaintiff’s Motion for Class Certification.
22
24
25
26
27
28

1 IV. PLAINTIFF CANNOT SATISFY ANY RULE 23(B) PREREQUISITE

2 Plaintiff asks the Court to certify a hybrid class under Rules 23(b)(2) and 3 23(b)(3). (Doc. 32-1 at 18). As shown below, however, class certification is 4 improper under either section.

6 A. Class certification is improper under Rule 23(b)(2) because
7 Plaintiff seeks to recover monetary damages on behalf of the 8 putative class and Plaintiff cannot show that Enagic has acted or 9 refused to act on grounds that apply generally to the putative
10 class.

11 Rule 23(b)(2) permits class certification when “the party opposing the class
12 has acted or refused to act on grounds that apply generally to the class, so that final 13 injunctive relief or corresponding declaratory relief is appropriate respecting the 14 class as a whole.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(2). Significantly, Rule 23(b)(2) “does not 15 authorize class certification when each class member would be entitled to an 16 individualized award of monetary damages.” Dukes, 564 U.S. at 360-61; see also 17 Connelly, 294 F.R.D. at 579. “Although Rule 23(b)(2) classes need not meet the 18 predominance and superiority requirements, it is well established that the class
19 claims must be cohesive.” Connelly, 294 F.R.D. at 579 (internal quotations
20 omitted). “Indeed, a (b)(2) class may require more cohesiveness than a (b)(3)
21 class.” Id.

22 In Connelly, the plaintiffs sought to certify a TCPA class under Rules
23 23(b)(2) and 23(b)(3), and they requested injunctive relief and an award of statutory
24 damages under the TCPA on behalf of each class member. Id. The court explained
25

1 that because the plaintiffs and putative class members would be entitled to recover
2 an individualized award of statutory damages, their “TCPA claims are ineligible for
3 Rule 23(b)(2) certification, regardless of [their] parallel request for injunctive
4 relief.” Id.

6 Here, Plaintiff’s request for class certification under Rule 23(b)(2) fails for 7 the same reason. To be sure, Plaintiff’s Second Amended Complaint plainly
8 requests statutory damages under the TCPA, and Plaintiff’s Motion for Class
9 Certification unequivocally states that “each Class member claims statutory 10 damages for invasion of privacy . . .” (Doc. 32-1 at 16). Accordingly, Plaintiff’s
11 TCPA claims cannot be certified under Rule 23(b)(2), regardless of Plaintiff’s
12 contemporaneous request for injunctive relief.
13
14
15

16 In addition, certification under Rule 23(b)(2) is improper because Plaintiff
17 cannot show that Enagic acted or refused to act on grounds that apply uniformly to 18 all class members. As discussed above, this case does not concern a policy or 19 practice by Enagic that impacts the putative class members in the same way.
20 Rather, at most, this case involves a policy that endows Enagic’s independent
21 distributors with broad discretion to determine their own methods of sale and means
22 of interacting with potential customers. Because of the discretion given to Enagic’s
23 independent distributors, each putative class member’s claim arises from unique
24
25
26
27
28

1 factual circumstances. Consequently, the class lacks the cohesiveness required for
 2 class certification under Rule 23(b)(2).

 4 B. Class certification is improper under Rule 23(b)(3) because
 5 individualized questions predominate over any questions that
 6 might be common to the putative class.

7 Class certification is permitted under Rule 23(b)(3) only if “the court finds 8 that questions of law or fact common to class members predominate over any 9 questions affecting only individual members, and that a class action is superior to 10 other available methods for fairly and efficiently adjudicating the controversy.”
 11 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3). Although it is similar to Rule 23(a)’s commonality
 12 requirement, “the predominance criterion is far more demanding.” Amchem Prods.,
 13 Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 623 (1997). Rule 23(b)(3) demands that the court
 14 “give careful scrutiny to the relation between common and individual questions in a 15 case.” Tyson Foods, Inc. v. Bouaphakeo, 136 S. Ct. 1036, 1045 (2016). For 16 purposes of this inquiry, an individual question is one that requires putative class
 17 members to present evidence that varies from member to member, while a common
 18 question is one where the same evidence will suffice for each putative class
 19 member. Id. The ultimate question under Rule 23(b)(3) is whether common or 20 individual questions will be more prevalent in a trial on the merits. Id.

21 The predominance analysis begins with the elements of the underlying cause
 22 of action. Erica P. John Fund, Inc. v. Halliburton Co., 563 U.S. 804, 809 (2011).

1 In TCPA actions, the predominance inquiry frequently turns on whether the
2 element of consent can be resolved with common or individualized proof. Blair,
3 309 F.R.D. at 628; Connelly, 294 F.R.D. at 577. “Although TCPA cases are not
4 ‘per se’ unsuitable for class resolution, class certification is warranted only when 5 the ‘unique facts’ of a particular case indicate that individual adjudication of the 6 pivotal element of prior express consent is unnecessary.” Blair, 309 F.R.D. at 628;
7 Connelly, 294 F.R.D. at 577. Thus, the party seeking class certification must 8 “advance a viable theory employing generalized proof to establish liability with 9 respect to the class involved.” Blair, 309 F.R.D. at 628. When the telephone 10 numbers of the putative class members are obtained from different sources under 11 different circumstances, the element of consent is an individualized question that 12 precludes class certification under Rule 23(b)(3). Connelly, 294 F.R.D. at 578-79.

13
14
15
16
17 As already discussed, Plaintiff has not identified a single question of law or 18 fact that is common to the putative class and susceptible to resolution with class
19 wide proof. This, alone, precludes certification under Rule 23(b)(3). But even if 20 the Court concludes that some common issue is present, it should still refuse to 21 certify a (b)(3) class because any common issues will be dwarfed at trial by 22 individualized questions regarding: (1) putative class members’ express consent; (2)
23 putative class members’ standing; and (3) Enagic’s purported liability for the acts
24 of its independent distributors.
25
26
27
28

1 To begin with, the pivotal element of express consent will inevitably require
2 myriad individualized inquiries that would dominate any trial on the merits. When
3 Enagic contacts potential customers by telephone, it does so with the express
4 consent, and upon the express request, of the potential customers. See Exhibit A at 5 ¶ 6. Moreover, Enagic's independent distributors have broad discretion to 6 determine their own methods of sale, and to the extent independent distributors
7 choose to contact potential customers by telephone, they acquire potential
8 customers' telephone numbers independently from a variety of different sources
9 under a variety of different circumstances. Id. at ¶¶ 3, 5, and 8. Thus, the pivotal
10 issue of consent cannot be resolved with class wide proof, and a trial on the merits
11 will require thousands of individualized inquiries into whether or not each
12 particular class member consented to receive calls from Enagic and/or its 13 independent distributors. As was the case in Connelly, the diversity of ways in 14 which putative class members' telephone numbers were obtained precludes class
15 certification under Rule 23(b)(3).

16
17 Individualized questions regarding putative class members' standing also 18 preclude certification of a (b)(3) class. The Ninth Circuit has instructed that "[n]o
19 class may be certified that contains members lacking Article III standing." Mazza
20 v. Am. Honda Motor Co., 666 F.3d 581, 594 (9th Cir. 2012). To establish standing
21 in a TCPA case, a plaintiff must demonstrate some concrete harm beyond a mere
22
23
24
25
26
27
28

1 procedural violation of the statute. See Romero, 2016 WL 4184099, at *4-*5;
2 Ewing, 2016 WL 5846494, at *2. If a plaintiff did not answer an allegedly illegal
3 call or was not aware of an allegedly illegal call, he cannot demonstrate standing to 4 sue under the TCPA. Romero, 2016 WL 4184099, at *4. Likewise, a plaintiff who
5 did answer an allegedly illegal call cannot demonstrate standing unless he can show
6 that the use of an ATDS or prerecorded voice caused him greater harm than would
7 have been caused by a manually-dialed and entirely legal call. Id. at *5; Ewing,
8 2016 WL 5846494, at *3. Here, Plaintiff does not allege, much less present
9 evidence of, any concrete harm suffered by him and the putative class members that 10 would be sufficient to establish standing under the TCPA. Further, Plaintiff does 11 not allege or offer any proof that each putative class member suffered the same
12 concrete harm beyond a mere procedural violation of the TCPA. Accordingly, any 13 trial on the merits will inevitably require thousands of mini-trials to ensure that 14 every putative class member has standing. This, too, precludes certification of a 15 (b)(3) class in this case.

16
17 Finally, individualized issues pertaining to Enagic's purported liability for 18 the acts of its independent distributors precludes class certification under Rule
19 23(b)(3). As defined by Plaintiff, the putative class includes individuals who 20 received telephone calls from Enagic or one of Enagic's independent distributors.
21 Although there is no question that Enagic could be held liable for its own actions,
22
23
24
25
26
27
28

1 there are substantial questions of fact as to whether Enagic could be vicariously
2 liable for the actions of its independent distributors. Indeed, this Court has already
3 concluded that questions of fact remain regarding Enagic's purported vicarious
4 liability. (See Doc. 31). Thus, for putative class members who claim to have 5 received an illegal call from one of Enagic's independent distributors, a jury would
6 have to determine, for each individual class member, whether Enagic is vicariously
7 liable for the independent distributor's actions. For putative class members who
8 claim to have received a call directly from Enagic, however, no additional questions
9 regarding vicarious liability would be necessary. Because the evidence required to 10 establish Enagic's liability would vary from putative class member to putative class
11 member, this is plainly an individualized issue that defeats class certification under 12 Rule 23(b)(3).
13
14
15
16

17 V. THE COURT SHOULD DENY PLAINTIFF'S REQUEST FOR PRE-
18 CERTIFICATION DISCOVERY

19 It is well-established that pre-certification discovery is not required in every 20 case. Doninger v. Pac. Nw. Bell, Inc., 564 F.2d 1304, 1313 (9th Cir. 1977).
21 Where, as here, the plaintiff cannot make even a prima facie showing of Rule 23's
22 prerequisites, "the burden is on the plaintiff to demonstrate that discovery measures
23 are likely to produce persuasive information substantiating the class allegations."
24 Id.; see also Mantolet v. Bolger, 767 F.2d 1416, 1424 (9th Cir. 1985); Perez v.
25 Safelite Group, Inc., 553 F. App'x. 667, 668 (9th Cir. 2014). A district court's 26
27
28

1 decision to deny pre-certification discovery is reviewed for abuse of discretion.
2 Mantolete, 767 F.2d at 1424.

4 Although Plaintiff argues that he is entitled to class certification on the 5 current record, he also requests that “the Court defer ruling on Plaintiff’s Motion
6 for Class Certification until after the parties have had the opportunity to complete
7 pre-certification discovery.” (Doc. 32-1 at 2). Plaintiff informs the Court that he
8 will submit an amended Motion for Class Certification with information obtained
9 during discovery “to further support the prerequisites of Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a),” but 10 he offers no meaningful explanation regarding the information he expects to obtain 11 during discovery, nor does he explain how that information will substantiate his 12 class allegations. (Doc. 32-1 at 2). Accordingly, Plaintiff has wholly failed to 13 satisfy his burden of showing that pre-certification discovery would produce
14 information that would substantiate his class allegations.
15
16
17
18

19 Moreover, some of the defects in Plaintiff’s class allegations cannot possibly 20 be due to a lack of discovery from Enagic, but rather to Plaintiff’s failure to provide 21 the Court with necessary information that is, or should be, in his own possession.
22 For instance, pre-certification discovery will not produce any information that
23 Plaintiff does not already possess regarding his and the putative class members’
24 purported concrete injuries, which are necessary to establish their standing to sue
25 under the TCPA. Plaintiff has had more than ample time to collect and submit that 26
27
28

1 information to the Court, but for whatever reason, he has simply failed to do so.
2 Similarly, pre-certification discovery will not help Plaintiff craft a proper, non-fail-
3 safe class definition. Again, Plaintiff has had more than enough time to propose a
4 class definition that is proper, but for whatever reason, he has simply failed to do
5 so.

8 In short, Plaintiff has not made even a prima facie case for class certification,
9 nor has he satisfied his burden of demonstrating that pre-certification discovery
10 would produce information that would allow him to substantiate his fundamentally 11 flawed class claims. Because no amount of discovery could salvage Plaintiff's ill-
12 conceived class allegations, the Court should deny Plaintiff's request to conduct
13 pre-certification discovery.
14

15 CONCLUSION

16
17 For the foregoing reasons, Enagic USA, Inc. respectfully requests that the 18 Court deny Plaintiff's Motion for Class Certification and deny Plaintiff's informal
19 request for pre-certification discovery.

DECLARATION OF KOICHIRO HIGA

2 1. I, Koichiro Higa, declare as follows:

4 2. I am the President of Enagic USA, Inc. As such, I have personal
5 knowledge of each and every fact stated in this declaration, and if called as a
6 witness, I can and will competently testify to them under oath. I am otherwise
7 competent to make this declaration.

9 3. Enagic is a direct selling company that markets various products and 10 services to consumers through a network of thousands of independent distributors
11 who reside and operate in most states.
12

13 4. As set forth in Enagic's formal Policies and Procedures (the 14 "Policies"), all of Enagic's independent distributors are independent contractors. A 15 true and correct copy of the Policies are attached hereto as Exhibit A-1.
16

17 5. As independent contractors, Enagic's independent distributors have 18 broad discretion to determine their own methods of sale and means for securing
19 customers, so long as they comply with the Policies.
20

21 6. Enagic does not use automatic telephone dialing systems ("ATDS") or 22 prerecorded voice calls to solicit potential customers, independent distributors, or
23 other individuals who have not previously consented to receiving communications
24 from Enagic. However, individuals who are interested in Enagic and its products
25 frequently provide their telephone numbers and other contact information to Enagic
26
27
28

1 and expressly request that Enagic contact them with information about the company.
2 Enagic responds to these requests in various ways, including by telephone.

4 7. Enagic does not direct or encourage its independent distributors to use
5 ATDS or prerecorded voice calls to solicit potential customers, independent
6 distributors, or other individuals who have not previously consented to being 7 contacted. In fact, the Policies expressly prohibit independent distributors from
8 using Enagic's name or copyrighted materials in connection with "automatic calling
9 devices or 'boiler room' operations either to solicit independent distributors or retail
10 customers." See Exhibit A-1 at 30.
11

13 8. To the extent Enagic's independent distributors choose, in their 14 discretion, to contact potential customers by telephone, Enagic does not provide 15 them with telephone numbers or other information regarding potential customers,
16 nor does Enagic participate in any way in obtaining that information for its 17 independent distributors. Rather, Enagic's independent distributors acquire 18 potential customers' telephone numbers independently from multiple different
19 sources under a variety of different circumstances. Enagic also does not provide its 20 independent distributors with ATDS, prerecorded voice recordings, or any other 21 telephonic technology that could be used to contact potential customers. Finally,
22 Enagic does not instruct its independent distributors regarding the use of telephonic
23 technology. Enagic exercises no control over its independent distributors' methods
24
25
26
27
28

1 of sale or means of securing customers, other than to ask that its independent
2 distributors comply with the Policies.

4 9. Enagic does not possess, maintain, or have access to records of any
5 telephone calls that its independent distributors have made to potential customers or 6 any third parties. If any such records exist, they would be possessed and 7 maintained separately by each independent distributor.

9 10. Enagic does not possess, maintain, or have access to any records
10 showing whether, or to what extent, independent distributors may have used ATDS
11 or prerecorded voice calls to call individuals who have expressly consented to 12 receive such calls. As stated in the Policies, Enagic does not, and cannot, try to 13 regulate its independent distributors' use of ATDS or prerecorded voice calls in 14 ways that are legal.

15
16
17 I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of California
18 that the foregoing is true and correct.

ENAGIC GLOBAL

Policies and Procedures For Global Enagic Distributors

Effective March 2014

This document supersedes all previous editions.

MOST RECENT HIGHLIGHTS

Addition and/or Supplemental Change – Article 28

28. Privacy Policy

The Company collects information from independent distributors during the application procedure and from time to time as required for internal purposes such as compliance with state and federal laws and regulations. The Company also collects information through the use of “cookies” when on-line transactions are conducted through the Company’s website. The information collected may be used for, among other things, personalizing the independent distributor’s experience, improving the Company’s website and service, processing transactions, sending periodic correspondence and administering marketing initiatives. The Company implements a variety of security measures to maintain the safety of the information collected.

The Company does not sell or trade the information collected. The Company only shares information as permitted or required by law and with third-party vendors (eg. merchant card processing company) for our everyday business purposes such as merchant card processing companies. Outside of these parameters, the Company will only share your information with your permission.

Addition and/or Supplemental Change – Article 40

If you do not have a direct sale within two (2) years, you are not qualified to receive any commission, 6A educational allowance and/or incentive. This status is called “FA0”. Any distributor under FA0 status may re-register in a new position, without regard to their former group, which automatically acts to cancel their former Distributorship.

Addition and/or Supplemental Change – Article 41

41. Kangen UKON Distributorships

Kangen UKON Distributorships automatically entitle the account holder to an Enagic Independent Distributorship for Kangen Water® machines. All the provisions of the Enagic Global Policies and Procedures apply to Kangen UKON Distributors including, but not limited to, their independent contractor status, unless specifically designated as inapplicable.

30. Modification of Product Order

1. Upgrades: All upgrades for product orders require the authorization of the Regional Sales Manager (RSM) for the respective sales area of the order. The Company reserves the right to refuse upgrade requests in its sole discretion.
 - (a) Upgrades for new and unused products are allowed within one (1) year of the purchase date.
 - (b) Upgrades for used products are allowed within thirty (30) days of the purchase date. A Processing Fee will be charged in the amount noted on the Return Policy form.
2. Downgrades: Downgrades are not allowed for product orders. In the event of an extraordinary circumstance, the respective RSM may provide a waiver within ten (10) business days of the purchase date for new and unused products only. A $50 handling fee will be charged. The Company reserves the right to refuse any such request in its sole discretion. No waiver will be provided beyond the ten (10) business day period.

A Clarification From Enagic

39. Awards and Incentives vs. Commissions – Shoreikin

When Distributors make exceptional contributions to the Company, they become eligible for Shoreikin Awards. Factors demonstrating exceptional contribution include, but are not limited to, outstanding sales efforts and remarkable sales group organization. Shoreikin Awards may differ in name in order to limit the eligible group (eg. 6A 8-Level Award and 6A23 and Above New Incentive Award) but they are all awarded at the sole discretion of the Company. Shoreikin Awards are not paid automatically and will differ based on the overall efforts of our Distributors. Any Distributor subject to an Administrative Hold and/or Disciplinary Action will be ineligible for any Shoreikin Award.

All independent distributors must be of legal age in the state in which they reside. The Company reserves the right to accept or reject anyone as an independent distributor.

Unless waived in writing by the Company upon application, the Company will consider a married couple as a single independent distributor. Husbands and wives may sponsor each other directly, but may not be sponsored in different lines. If the Company finds that the a spouse was sponsored in a different line by any reason, the Company reserves the right to change the status of the spouse from an independent distributor into a user, or transfer the distributorship to his or her upline.

Independent distributors are independent marketing representatives of the Company and are not to be considered purchasers of a franchise or a distributorship. The agreement between the Company and its independent distributors does not create an employer/employee relationship, agency, partnership, or joint venture. Independent distributors are independent contractors; they are free to enter into separate agreements with other independent distributors involving the conduct of their distributorships, subject only to the distributor agreement, policies and procedures and distributor handbook. Each independent distributor shall hold harmless the Company from any claims, damages or liabilities arising out of his/her business practices. Independent distributors have no authority to bind the Company to any obligation. Each independent distributor is encouraged to set up his/her own hours and to determine his/her own method of sale, so long as he/she complies with the policies and procedures of the Company.

The company's program is built upon retail sales to the ultimate consumer. The company also recognizes that independent distributors may wish to purchase products or services in reasonable amounts for their own personal or family use. For this reason, a retail sale for bonus purposes shall include sales to non-participants, as well as sales to independent distributors for personal or family use which are not made for purposes of qualification or advancement. It is company policy, however, to strictly prohibit the purchase of product or large quantities of inventory in unreasonable amounts solely for the purpose of qualifying for bonuses or advancement in the marketing program. Independent distributors may not inventory load nor encourage others in the program to load up on inventory. Independent distributors must fulfill published personal and downline retail sales requirements, including requisite retail sales to non-participants, as well as supervisory responsibilities, to qualify for bonuses, overrides or advancements.

12. Retail Establishments

Company products or services may only be displayed and sold in retail establishments where the nature of the business is to make appointments with customers (such as salons, doctor's offices, and health clubs where appointments are made for personal training or classes are scheduled). The sale of such products or services within such retail facilities must be conducted by an independent distributor and must be preceded by a discussion where the independent distributor introduces the prospective client to the products or services and opportunity just as they would if they had met outside of the retail facility. From time to time, the Company may announce policies and rules that expand or contract restrictions on sales in retail establishments.

13. Prohibition on Affiliation with Other Water Treatment Marketing Companies.

(a) It would undermine the basic distributor relationship if independent distributors marketed competing water treatment, water filtration or alkaline water conversion products. Therefore, so long as an independent distributor desires to

These are considered to be business expenses and should be paid by the independent distributor. Any violation of this article will constitute grounds for termination of distributor status.

Providing free Kangen Water® in bottled form to a prospective buyer is authorized. However, any labeling on the bottle or attached to the bottle, is strictly prohibited, as it may create confusion that the sample water is "bottled" or "for resale" (rather than a mere sampling provided person to person at no charge) in violation of state or local regulations regarding the "bottling" and/or sale of "bottled water".

15. Trade Shows

With written authorization from the Company, Company products or services and opportunity may be displayed at trade shows by independent distributors. Request for participation in trade shows must be received in writing by the Company at least two weeks prior to the show. Written authorization from the Company must be received before participating in the trade show. Unless written authorization is secured from the Company, Company products or services and opportunity are the only products or services and/or opportunity that may be offered in the trade show booth. Only Company produced marketing materials may be displayed or distributed. No independent distributor may sell or promote the Company products or services or business opportunity at flea markets, swap meets, or garage sales.

16. Assigned Territory

Independent distributors are not assigned exclusive territories for marketing purposes, nor shall any independent distributors imply or state that he/she does have an

Independent distributors who choose to sponsor internationally may do so only in countries in which the Company or its parent company has registered to operate its business and must comply fully with the Rules of Operation of a Company distributorship in that country. 18. Change of Business Name

The Company reserves the right to approve or disapprove independent distributor's change of business names, formation of partnership, corporations, and trusts for tax, estate planning, and limited liability purposes. If the Company approves such a change, the organization's name and the names of the principals of the organization must appear on the distributor application agreement along with a social security number or federal identification number. It is prohibited to make change to attempt to circumvent or violate Company rules on raiding, solicitation, targeting, cross-sponsoring or interference.

19. Cancellation of Distributorship

The distributor agreement may be canceled at any time and for any reason by the independent distributor. All cancellations are accepted and effective as of the date the Company was notified in writing. As of the effective cancellation date, the independent distributor loses all privileges of leadership and downline organization, and is no longer eligible for any commissions, bonuses or prizes. He/she cannot advertise, sell or promote the Company products or purchase product from the Company.

Violation of this provision may result in termination of the distributorship.

23. Prohibition on Raiding and Cross-Solicitation of Products or Other MLM and/or Business Opportunities

The Company takes seriously its responsibility to protect the livelihood of its sales forces and the hard work invested to build a sales organization. Raiding and solicitation actions in which independent distributors seek to raid and solicit other independent distributors in the sales organization to non-Company products and services and to other MLM/business opportunities, severely undermines the marketing program of the Company, interferes with the relationship between the Company and its sales force and destroys the livelihood of other independent distributors who have worked hard to build their own business, the business of their sales and benefits they have earned by helping to build a sales organization. Therefore, independent distributors shall not directly or indirectly sell to, nor solicit from, other independent distributors for or to any non-Company products or services, or in any way promote to other independent distributors business opportunities in marketing programs of other MLM or business opportunity companies at any time. The independent distributor shall not engage in any recruiting or promotion activity that targets other independent distributors for opportunities or products of other direct selling companies or business opportunities, either directly or indirectly, by themselves or in conjunction with others, nor shall an independent distributor participate, directly or indirectly, in interference, raiding or solicitation activity of independent distributors for other direct selling companies or business opportunities. Unless approved in writing by the Company, this prohibition includes sales or solicitation of non-Company products or services at meetings organized for Company sales, promotion, training recruitment, demonstration, etc. This prohibition on targeting, interference, soliciting and raiding shall be in effect during the term of the distributor agreement and for a period of three (3) years after the termination of the distributor agreement. Because of the unique nature and signature characteristic and association with the field of water treatment with the Company, and because of the inherent confusion and conflict that may occur, independent distributors may not engage in the representation or sale of water treatment systems offered by any other company.

24. Purchases for Inventory of Mandatory Sales Aids

If the independent distributor has purchased products for inventory purposes or mandatory sales aids while the distributor agreement was in effect, all products in a resalable condition then in possession of the independent distributor, which have been purchased within 90 days of cancellation, shall be repurchased. The repurchase shall be at a price of not less than ninety percent (90%) of the original net cost to the participant returning such goods, taking into account any sales made by or through such participant prior to notification to the Company of the election to cancel. Idaho, Utah, Washington and Puerto Rico. In addition, the Company will honor statutory mandated buyback requirements of every jurisdiction.

25. Vendor Confidentiality

The Company's business relationship with its vendors, manufacturers and suppliers is confidential. An independent distributor shall not contact directly or indirectly, or speak to or communicate with any representative of any supplier or manufacturers of the Company except at a company sponsored event at which the representative is present at the request of the Company. Violation of this regulation may result in termination and possible claims for damages if the vendor/manufacture's association is compromised by the distributor contact.

The Company shall be entitled to repayment of any commission previously paid on a sale of product/service if the product/service purchase is cancelled, reversed (eg. collections activity results in legal or further action), or a refund paid for a terminated purchase. 27. Downline Information Confidentiality

On a periodic basis, the Company will supply data processing information and reports to the independent distributor, which will provide information concerning the independent distributor's downline sales organization, product purchases and product mix. The independent distributor agrees that such information is proprietary and confidential to the Company and is transmitted to the independent distributor in confidence. The independent distributor agrees that he or she will not disclose such information to any third party directly or indirectly, nor use the information to compete with the Company directly or indirectly during or after the term of the distributor agreement. The independent distributor and the Company agree that, but for this agreement of confidentiality and nondisclosure, the Company would not provide the above confidential information to the independent distributor.

28. Privacy Policy

The Company collects information from independent distributors during the application procedure and from time to time as required for internal purposes such as compliance with state and federal laws and regulations. The Company also collects information through the use of "cookies" when on-line transactions are conducted through the Company's website. 4. Disability: Should an independent distributor become disabled to the extent that he/she can no longer fulfill the required duties of an independent distributor, such independent distributor's legal representative or conservator shall:

- (a) Contact the Company within thirty (30) days of the disability and advise the Company of the independent distributor's status and the plans for future management or cancellation of the distributorship.

In the event of an extraordinary circumstance, the respective RSM may provide a waiver within ten (10) business days of the purchase date for new and unused products only. A $50 handling fee will be charged. The Company reserves the right to refuse any such request in its sole discretion. No waiver will be provided beyond the ten (10) business day period.

31. Sale or Transfer

Products sold to third parties do not qualify those third parties as independent distributors; all those who wish to become independent distributors must go through the normal application procedure. Independent distributors agree to inform all third parties of the facts above and further agree not to promise any possibility of transferring distributorship.

An independent distributor may not sell, assign or otherwise transfer his or her distributorship, marketing position or other distributor rights without written application and approval by the Company. This paragraph is also applicable to transfer of any interest in an entity that owns a distributorship, including but not limited to a corporation, partnership, trust or other non-individual entity. The potential buyer must be at the higher rank as the selling independent distributor. The distributorship must be offered in writing first to the independent distributor's sponsor. If the sponsor declines the offer, the independent distributor may offer the distributorship for sale to the upline independent distributor of the sponsor within the same group. An independent distributor who sells his or her distributorship shall not be eligible to requalify as an independent distributor for a period of at least three (3) months after the sale. The Company reserves the right to review the sale agreement and to verify waiver from the upline sponsor in the event the upline sponsor declines to purchase the distributorship.

The primary independent distributor must wait twelve (12) months after adding a co-applicant to the distributorship before they are allowed to remove their name from the distributorship. It is prohibited to use a sale or transfer to attempt to circumvent Company policy on raiding, soliciting, cross-sponsoring or interference.

For the term of three (3) years after sale or transfer, an independent distributor agrees that he/she shall not, directly or indirectly, disrupt, damage, impair or interfere with the business of the Company, whether by way of interfering with, or raiding its employees or distributors, disrupting its relationship with customers, agents, representatives, distributors, suppliers, vendors or manufacturers or otherwise. "Disrupting" or "interfering" shall include, but not be limited to, direct or indirect solicitation or recruitment for other direct selling business opportunities or products or services of other direct selling companies. An independent distributor seeking to sell or transfer his/her distributorship must acknowledge and agree to this provision prior to the finalization of the sale or transfer of their distributorship.

32. Rights of the Company

The Company expressly reserves the right to alter or amend prices, Rules and Regulations, Policies and Procedures, product availability and the compensation plan. Upon notification, in writing, such amendments are automatically incorporated as part of the agreement between the Company and distributor. Company communication of changes may include, but shall not be limited to mail, email, fax, posting on the Company website, publication in company newsletters or magazines, etc.

- (a) Enagic reserves the right to make all final decisions as to the interpretation of the articles stated in these Policies and Procedures. The final company decision based on the interpretation of the articles stated in the Policies and Procedures is effective immediately. All independent distributors are obligated to follow the company's decision as to the interpretation of the articles of these Policies and Procedures.

33. Non-Individual Ownership

A partnership or corporation may be an independent distributor. However, no individual may participate in more than three (3) independent distributorships in any form without express written permission from the Company. Only in the most extreme and extraordinary circumstances will this be considered.

- (a) A distributorship may change status under the same sponsor from individual to partnership or corporation or from partnership to corporation with proper and complete documentation.

This form must be submitted detailing all partners, stockholders, officers or directors in the partnership or corporation. The partner or officer who submits the form must be authorized to enter into binding contracts on behalf of the partnership or corporation. In addition, by submitting the partnership/corporation form, said individual certifies that no person with an interest in the business has had an interest in a distributorship within three (3) months of the submission of the form (unless it is the continuation of an existing distributorship that is changing its form of doing business).

34. Individual Distributorship

An individual can have up to three (3) distributorships in the Company. He/she may not own any other distributorship, either individually or jointly, nor may he/she participate as a partner, owner, stockholder, trustee, director, or association member, outside his/her sponsorship. An individual shall provide the Company with a W-9 Form with Social Security Number.

35. Entity Distributorship

An entity (corporate) owner can have up to five (5) distributorships in the Company, as long as they are within the same distributorship.

- (a) Proprietorship: A copy of fictitious name filing must be submitted, plus a W-9 form.
- (b) Corporation: Copies of articles of incorporation with state seal and notarization, list of officers, a copy of Federal ID number (EIN) and a W-9 Form are required, including the page with state seals and notarization. These articles will show who the principals are and prove validation of Federal ID Number/Business Number/E.I.N., plus a W-9 form.
- (c) LLC: IRS acceptance only. The name on the IRS acceptance is required to state the LLC in order to use it as an LLC, plus a W-9 form.
- (d) Trust: An affidavit of trust with the notarized copy of the power of attorney is necessary. If Federal ID Number is to be used and is not noted in the affidavit, an IRS acceptance will be required, plus a W-9 form.
- (e) Partnership: To register as a partner, complete the partnership portion of the Entity Information form, along with all signatures that apply, plus a W-9 form.

36. Entity Guarantee for Owners

Although the Company has offered independent distributors the opportunity to conduct their distributorship as a corporate, LLC, trust or partnership entity, those entities are under the control of its owners and principals, the actions of individual owners or beneficiaries as they may affect Company's business. Therefore, it is agreed that the actions of individual owners or beneficiaries as they may affect the Company and the distributorship are also critical to the Company's business. Therefore it is agreed that actions of the ownership entity's shareholders, officers, directors, trustees, beneficiaries, agents, employees or other related or interested parties and the actions of such parties, which are in contrast to Company's policies shall be attributable to the corporate, LLC, trust or partnership entity.

In the event that any of the ownership entity shareholders, officers, directors, trustees, beneficiaries, agents, employees or other related parties shall terminate ownership interests in the distributorship, any breaching actions by such parties that continue to have a beneficial financial interest, directly or indirectly, in the distributorship shall be attributable to the distributorship.

37. Members of Same Household; Responsibility

Members of the independent distributor's household should operate together under the same distributorship unless otherwise allowed by these Policies and Procedures. Household is defined as husband, wife, and dependents. Children of legal age to contract and at least 18 years of age are not considered a part of their parent's household for the purpose of operating under the same distributorship.

The Company recognizes that members of the same household may belong to competing direct selling opportunities. Although the actions of the parties are normally in good faith, in some circumstances, there is an abuse of relationships in which the non-Company affiliated household member is engaged in recruitment, solicitation or raiding of the Company's organization. The independent distributor is in the best position to prevent raiding or cross-sponsoring activity by his/her non-Company affiliated household member, therefore the cross recruiting activity of the non-Company affiliated household member shall be attributed to the independent distributor.

38. Foreign Distributorships

A foreign person living outside of the United States and Canada may become an independent distributor by providing Enagic with a signed W-8BEN form, in addition to completion of the Product Order Form and Distributor Application, the Return Policy, and any other documentation required by the Company. A foreign independent distributor must never sell Enagic products within the United States and Canada, and the foreign independent distributor's downline must only consist of other foreign independent distributors living and selling Enagic products outside of the United States and Canada.

A foreign independent distributor will be solely responsible for all applicable taxes, duties, and other fees associated with his/her distributorship. The foreign distributorship is subject to all applicable laws and regulations of his/her country of residence. The Company is not responsible for any failure by the foreign distributor to abide by the laws of his/her country of residence or other controlling jurisdiction. While the Company does attempt to provide notice whenever possible, it may not always be possible to do so. Change in Company Policy or other actions such as termination may occur without notice to the independent distributor.

39. Awards and Incentives vs. Commissions – Shoreikin

When independent distributors make exceptional contributions to the Company, they become eligible for Shoreikin Awards. Factors demonstrating exceptional contribution include, but are not limited to, outstanding sales efforts and remarkable sales group organization. Shoreikin Awards may differ in name in order to limit the eligible group (eg. 6A 8-Level Award and 6A23 and Above New Incentive Award) but they are all awarded at the sole discretion of the Company. Shoreikin Awards are not paid automatically and will differ based on the overall efforts of our independent distributors. Any independent distributor subject to an Administrative Hold and/or Disciplinary Action will be ineligible for any Shoreikin Award.

40. Commission, 6A Educational Allowance and/or Incentive for Inactive Distributors (D1, D0, FA0)

If you have a direct sale within six (6) months, you are qualified to receive full commission, 6A educational allowance and/or incentive. This status is called "D1". If you do not have a direct sale within six (6) months, but you have at least one sale within two (2) years, you are qualified to receive fifty percent (50%) of the full commission, 6A educational allowance and/or incentive. This status is called "D0". If you do not have a direct sale within two (2) years, you are not qualified to receive any commission, 6A educational allowance and/or incentive. This status is called "FA0". Any distributor under FA0 status may re-register in a new position, without regard to their former group, which automatically acts to cancel their former Distributorship.

Payment of commission, 6A educational allowance and/or incentive will be made based on the independent distributor status on the date of sale. In the case of an Enagic Payment System (ECS) customer, the distributor status will be decided based on the payoff list issued on the 8th and 22nd each month. If such a day is Saturday, Sunday and/or holiday, the following business day will be applied. Payment of commission, 6A educational allowance and/or incentive will be made based on the distributor status as of the date such commission is processed.

Effective January 2012, 6A23 and above distributors Monthly Incentive will change. Your basic achievement rate vs. the previous month will be the deciding factor on the payment.

Achievement rate

For example, in December, Joe sells 1,000 machines within his 8-levels (not 8 points). As he is a 6A2-3, he earns (1,000 x $23) $23,000. In January, he sells 900 machines. (900/1,000 = 90%). As he sold 90% as compared to December, he will receive 80% of his expected bonus:

Expected bonus 900 x $23 = $20,700

Modified for 80% $20,700 x .8 = $16,560

41. Kangen UKON Distributorships

Kangen UKON Distributorships automatically entitle the account holder to an Enagic Independent Distributorship for Kangen Water® machines. All the provisions of the Enagic Global Policies and Procedures apply to Kangen UKON Distributors including, but not limited to, their independent contractor status, unless specifically designated as inapplicable.

42. Default in Payment

A distributorship will be terminated if an independent distributor defaults in payment of product purchases from the Company. In the event an independent distributor purchases product, either in the capacity as an User or an independent distributor, and subsequently defaults on payment, the distributorship is subject to immediate termination. The preceding rule is applicable to an independent distributor in an individual capacity that defaults, a corporate or partnership distributor where one of the principal owners defaults or any other default in payment where the defaulting party has an ownership interest in the distributorship.

43. Disciplinary Actions

Independent distributor's violation of any Policies and Procedures, the distributor agreement, terms and conditions or any illegal, fraudulent, deceptive, or unethical business conduct may result, at the Company's sole discretion, in one or more of the following disciplinary actions:

- (a) Issuance of a written warning or admonition.
- (b) Imposition of a fine, which may be imposed immediately or withheld from future commission checks.

- (c) Reassignment of all or part of an independent distributor's organization.
- (d) Freezing of commissions for an indefinite period.
- (e) Suspension, which may result in termination or reinstatement with conditions or restrictions.
- (f) Termination of the distributorship.

44. Right to Terminate

The Company reserves the right to terminate any distributorship at any time for cause when it is determined that the independent distributor has violated the provisions of the distributor agreement, including the provisions of these policies and procedures as they may be amended or the provisions of applicable laws and standards of fair dealing. Such involuntary termination shall be made by the Company at its discretion. Upon an involuntary termination, the Company shall notify the independent distributor by mail at the latest address listed with the Company for the distributor. In the event of a termination, the terminated independent distributor agrees to immediately cease representing him/herself as an independent distributor.

45. Termination

- (a) When a decision is made to terminate a distributorship, the Company will inform the independent distributor in writing that the distributorship is terminated immediately, effective as of the date of the written notification. The termination notice will be sent by certified mail to independent distributor's address on file with the Company.
- (b) The independent distributor will have fifteen (15) days from the date of mailing of the certified letter in which to appeal the termination in writing, and provide written response to the finding of violations of Company agreement, policies and/or rules. The independent distributor's appeal and/or response correspondence must be received by the Company within twenty (20) days of the Company's termination letter. If the appeal is not received within the twenty (20)-day period, the termination will be automatically deemed final.
- (c) If an independent distributor files a timely appeal of termination, the Company will review and consider the termination, consider any other appropriate action, and notify the independent distributor of its decision. The decision of the Company will be final and subject to no further review. In the event the termination is not rescinded, the termination will be effective as of the date of the Company's original termination notice. The terminated distributor may not be sponsored as an independent distributor again.

- (d) Upon termination of a distributorship, all rights cease. He/she is no longer eligible for any commission, bonuses or prizes. He/she cannot advertise, sell or promote the Company products or purchase products from the Company.

46. Sponsorship

All independent distributors have the right to sponsor others. In addition, every person has the ultimate right to choose his/her own sponsor. If two independent distributors should claim to be the sponsors of the same new independent distributor, the Company shall regard the first application received by the corporate home office as controlling.

- (a) As a general rule, it is good practice to regard the first independent distributor to meaningfully work with a prospective independent distributor as having first claim to sponsorship, but this is not necessarily controlling. Basic tenets of common sense and consideration should govern.
- (b) As a convenience to its independent distributors, the Company may provide various method of registering or informing the Company of newly sponsored independent distributors, including facsimile registration and online registration. Until such time as the Company receives an application, either as hard copy, facsimile or digital data, containing all appropriate information, as well as the signature of the proposed new distributor, the Company will only consider the incomplete facsimile or online registration in the category of "intended" registration. Thus, although the Company is attempting to create some convenience for its sponsoring distributors, it is the responsibility of the sponsoring independent distributor to cause delivery to the Company of a completed and signed distributor agreement and completed W-9 if the sponsor is to expect recognition as the official sponsoring independent distributor.
- (c) There is no "magic" involved in the Company or in any business. Those who sponsor widely but who do not help new independent distributors develop their business meet with limited success. Therefore, it is the independent distributor's responsibility to follow through and make sure the new independent distributor is properly informed and trained in the areas of the product, the compensation plan, the policies and procedures and the professional guidelines of the network marketing industry.
- (d) When soliciting a prospective independent distributor to join the Company's network program, the independent distributor must clearly explain the following:
 1. Products: type, performance and quality of each product.

2. Compensation plan

3. Policies and Procedures.
 4. Independent distributor's rights and duties.
 5. Other important items that will affect the judgment of the prospective distributor.
- (e) Independent distributors should never provide false information in order to encourage the conclusion of a sales agreement or to prevent the buyer from canceling the agreement.
 - (f) Retail sales are a requirement of the Company's network program.
 - (g) Each independent distributor must identify himself or herself by name and Company ID number to the prospective buyer.
 - (h) The Company offers no sales discounts or other concessions and the distributor may not offer either. Any discounts offered by distributors may be grounds for termination.

47. Transfer of Sponsorship

Transfer is rarely permitted and is actively discouraged. Maintaining the integrity of sponsorship is absolutely mandatory for the success of the overall organization.

- (a) Transfers will generally be approved in only one of two (2) circumstances:
 1. In the case of unethical sponsoring by the original sponsor. In such cases, the Company will be the final authority.
 2. Resigning from the Company entirely and waiting six (6) months to reapply under the new sponsor.
- (b) In cases of unethical sponsoring, the independent distributor may be transferred with downline intact; in all other events, the individual alone is transferred without any downline being removed from the original line of sponsorship.

48. Income Claims

No income claims, income projections nor income representation, nor showing of commission checks ("check waving") may be made to prospective independent distributors. Any false, deceptive or misleading claims regarding the opportunity or product/service are prohibited. In their enthusiasm, distributors are occasionally tempted to represent hypothetical income figures based upon the inherent power of network marketing as actual income projections. This is counter-productive, since new independent distributors may be quickly disappointed if their results are not as extensive or as rapid as a hypothetical model would suggest. The Company believes firmly that the income potential is great enough to be highly attractive in reality without resorting to artificial and unrealistic projections.

49. Representation of Status

In all cases, any reference the independent distributor makes must clearly set forth the independent distributor's independent status. For example, if the independent distributor has a business telephone, the telephone may not be listed under the Company's name or in any other manner which does not disclose the independent contractor status of the distributor.

50. Judgment and Tax Lien

The Company will comply fully with any court order or instruction/demand by any government taxing authorities within the United States and Canada that orders, instructs or demands the withholding of a independent distributor's earnings from his/her distributorship with the Company.

51. Subpoenas Duces Tecum (Demands for Records)

Assuming proper jurisdiction, the Company will comply with all subpoenas duces tecum demanding financial compensation records of an independent distributor in his/her capacity as an independent contractor with the Company.

52. Request for Records

The Company will comply fully with all requests for records accompanied by a properly prepared and signed Authorization by the person whose records are being sought. The Company will comply fully with all requests for records by government agencies with the authority to request such records and accompanied by the requisite legal documentation.

53. Business Cards and Stationery

Any printed materials, including business cards and stationery, must be approved by the Company in advance. Criteria for approving these materials will include a judgment regarding the quality of the materials as well as properly setting forth the independent status of the independent distributor.

54. Telephone Solicitation

The use of the Company's name or copyrighted materials may not be made with automatic calling devices or "boiler room" operations either to solicit independent distributors or retail customers. The use of these methods in ways that are legal and are the equivalent of the "blind ads" alluded to above cannot be regulated by the Company.

55. Press Inquiries

Any inquiries by the media are to be referred immediately to the Company. This policy is to assure accuracy and a consistent public image.

56. Endorsement

Federal and state regulatory agencies rarely approve or endorse direct selling programs. Therefore, independent distributors may not represent that the Company's program has been approved or endorsed by any government agency.

57. Indemnification and Hold Harmless

The independent distributor hereby indemnifies and releases the Company, its officers, directors, agents and assigns and holds harmless from and against the full amount of any and all claims, causes of action, judicial and administrative proceedings suits, charges, liabilities, losses, damages, costs and expenses, including without limitation court costs and reasonable fees and expenses of attorneys and consultants, which are or may be made, filed or assessed against Company at any time arising out of distributor's business operations and representations made by distributor in the operation of his/her business, arising from the following:

- a) Violation and/or lack of compliance with terms of the distributor agreement, policies and procedures, rules and regulations, marketing program manual or guidelines or any other directive from the Company as to method and manner of operation of the independent distributor business;
- b) Engaging in any conduct not authorized by the Company in the Company market program;
- c) Any fraud, negligence or willful misconduct in the operation of the independent distributor business;
- d) Misrepresentation or unauthorized representation regarding the Company's product or service, marketing opportunity or potential or the Company's marketing program;
- e) Failure to adhere to any federal, state, or local law, regulation, ordinance

- and/or any order or rule issue by any court of appropriate jurisdiction,
- f) Engaging in any action which exceeds the scope of authority to the distributor as granted by the Company.
 - g) Engaging in any activity over which Company has no effective control as to the actions of the distributor.

58. Waiver

The Company never gives up its right to insist on compliance with these rules or with the applicable laws governing the conduct of a business. This is true in all cases, both specifically expressed and implied, unless an officer of the Company who is authorized to bind the Company in contracts or agreements specifies in writing that the Company waives any of these provisions. In addition, any time the Company gives permission for a breach of the rules, that permission does not extend to future breaches. This provision deals with the concept of "waiver," and the parties agree that the Company does not waive any of its rights under any circumstances short of the written confirmation alluded to above.

59. Governing Law

These policies and procedures are reasonably related to the laws of the state of California and shall be governed in all respects thereby. The parties agree that jurisdiction and venue shall lie with the place of acceptance of the distributor application which is Torrance, California.

60. Partial Validity

Should any portion of these policies and procedures, of the distributor's application and agreement, distributor handbook or of any other instruments referred to herein or issued by the Company be declared invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction, the balance of such rules, applications, or instruments shall remain in full force and effect.
